QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER OF MAHARAJA BIR BIKRAM COLLEGE

JANUARY–MARCH 2026

ABOUT MBBC CHRONICLES AND THE INSTITUTIONAL VISION

Established in 1947 by Maharaja Bir Bikram Kishore Manikya Bahadur, Maharaja Bir Bikram College has long stood as a cornerstone of higher education in Tripura, carrying forward a legacy of academic excellence, intellectual inquiry, and cultural enrichment. Rooted in its enduring motto, “Vidyayamrtamasnute” (Knowledge is the key to immortality), the institution continues to strive towards the dissemination of knowledge and the holistic development of its students.

MBBC Chronicles, the official quarterly newsletter of the college, marks a renewed step in this ongoing journey. While the college has long engaged in documenting its academic life, this inaugural issue brings with it a defined identity and rhythm. Beginning this year, the newsletter will follow a structured quarterly cycle – March (January – March), June (April – June), September (July – September), and December (October – December) – offering a consistent space to gather and reflect upon the life of the institution across time.

The newsletter seeks to document not only academic and co-curricular activities, but also the quieter processes that shape a campus, learning, dialogue, participation, and shared endeavour. It aspires to serve as a living archive of the institution’s engagements, achievements, outreach initiatives, and intellectual pursuits.

Aligned with the broader vision of the college, MBBC Chronicles aims to foster a culture of reflection and communication, connecting different segments of the college community while preserving continuity in its academic journey. In doing so, it not only records events, but also reinforces the institution’s enduring commitment to excellence, inclusivity, and knowledge dissemination.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dr. Arjun Gope
Principal
Maharaja Bir Bikram College,
Agartala

It gives me immense pleasure to present the inaugural volume of MBBC Chronicles, covering the period from January to March 2026. As one of the largest and most vibrant colleges in the state, MBB College has long stood as a beacon of academic excellence, distinguished by its wide array of departments and its rich legacy of scholarly and co-curricular activities since its inception.

MBBC Chronicles aims to weave fine the events that would be held or organised by the members of MBB College within a quarter period of a year. Given the fleeting nature of human memory, many meaningful efforts and achievements of MBB College remain at the risk of being forgotten with time. This newsletter would therefore serve not merely as a chronicle of events but also as a thoughtful compilation of our collective journey, an enduring archive that aims to capture the dynamic academic and cultural life of our institution.

This first issue highlights significant national and international seminars organized with the objective of inspiring our students and young researchers, not only within the institution but all across the nation as well. It also reflects our deep commitment to social responsibility through the commendable activities of NCC, along with initiatives promoting awareness of democratic values, voting rights, and mental health and well-being.

Equally noteworthy are the accomplishments of our students, whose dedication and talent continue to bring pride to the college community. Their achievements exemplify the spirit of excellence that defines MBB College.

The publication of this first issue marks a historic milestone for us. It is a moment of great excitement and pride for both students and faculty members. MBBC Chronicles is a reflection of our shared aspirations and unwavering commitment to nurturing a progressive academic environment.

I sincerely hope that this newsletter grows into a vibrant platform for expression, reflection, inspiration, and intellectual development. May it continue to document our journey and strengthen the academic culture of our institution.

I sincerely appreciate the efforts put forward by the editorial team whose dedication and relentless efforts could make the publication of this newsletter possible. I extend my best wishes for the continued success and growth of MBBC Chronicles and for all future endeavours of our college community.

FROM THE TEACHER'S COUNCIL

Smt. Nilima Biswas (Roy)
Secretary, Teacher's Council
Maharaja Bir Bikram College,
Agartala

Maharaja Bir Bikram College as the state's leading institution for higher education has spent decades pioneering both academic and extracurricular excellence. This newsletter serves as a clear testament to our unwavering commitment to perfection. From hosting international seminars and publishing research papers to excelling in social and sporting initiatives, these diverse activities (like celebration of Kokborok Language Day and international events to promote regional and global awareness. Active NSS and NCC units conducting blood donation camps and social awareness programs) reinforce the college's prestigious standing.

More than just an academic hub, this college has long been a sanctuary of peace and a cultural melting pot, committed to fostering unity within our diversity. In reaffirming this commitment, I look forward to seeing even greater achievements in the future. My sincere congratulations go to the editorial team and everyone whose hard work brought this newsletter to life.

FROM THE EDITORIAL DESK

Shri Pankaj Debbarma
Chief Editor,
MBBC Chronicles

A newsletter lived here before this one. It arrived when it could, carrying the weight of events, doing the necessary work of remembering. But it moved without a name, and without a rhythm that one could return to.

MBBC Chronicles begins with that pause. Not a grand beginning. Just a small decision, to name what we are already doing, and to do it with some regularity. From now on, the year will be gathered in four intervals: March (January – March), June (April – June), September (July – September), and December (October – December). Not to divide time too sharply, but to notice it. To allow a quarter to settle before it is written down.

What finds its way into these pages is only a portion of what the college becomes in those months. There are seminars and examinations, celebrations and quiet acts of work. But there are also things that resist being recorded, the effort that leaves no trace, the conversations that end where they begin, the slow shaping of a shared academic life.

A chronicle cannot hold everything. It is not meant to. It only pauses, looks, and gathers what it can, before time moves again.
